

OUR BLUEPRINT FOR SUCCESS

THE EDGE® is our suite of aviation services represented in THE EDGE banner above. We are proud to add the last aqua color bar, THE EDGE - Benefits. This exclusive benefits program for Leading Edge Aviation Solutions clients is offered in collaboration with key players in our industry -- ARGUS, FlightSafety International, Marsh and MedAire. THE EDGE - Benefits program offers discounts or other benefits for certain of their products or services to Leading Edge clients who buy or sell an aircraft using our exclusive acquisition or disposition services or to an end user who purchases an aircraft exclusively marketed by Leading Edge. Benefits will not apply to existing clients of any of the below participants. Please call for details.

ARGUS International, a worldwide leader in specialized aviation services, through THE EDGE - Benefits Program, is offering a discount to Leading Edge clients for various audits, flight dept. financial benchmark reporting, annual subscription fees for ARMOR (one-time only) and for the Operational Excellence Program (IS-BAO Stage III flight departments only). In cooperation with ARGUS Leading Edge Aviation Solutions will provide aircraft evaluation services.

Industry training leader, FlightSafety International, in collaboration with Leading Edge is offering an Executive Emergency Training course geared for corporate principals and passengers and a General Emergency Training (Initial) course meant for corporate crew members that is more comprehensive. Both courses are discounted for Leading Edge clients.

Marsh, a global leader in insurance and risk management, has joined in THE EDGE - Benefits program offering a thorough insurance audit of your aviation policies including a complete report. Marsh can also offer Leading Edge clients access to their Mach Insurance Program, a program with added benefits that aggressively competes against large fleet programs.

MedAire, the gold standard company for crew and passenger care, through THE EDGE - Benefits Program is offering preferred pricing on the MedAire Travel Risk Management Program and the Management of In-flight Illness and Injury Training Program. A discount is also available for MedAire Aviation Medical Kits and Equipment.
